Dog Pound Red Cross Had Successful Year

At the annual meeting of the Dog Pound Red Cross branch, held on Friday, the secretary, Mrs. Stone, reported an expenditure of approximately $900 in the year, most of which was raised during the year.

Mrs. Watt, president, and Mrs. Stone were highly commended on the work they accomplished during the year and kept interest in the branch at a high level.

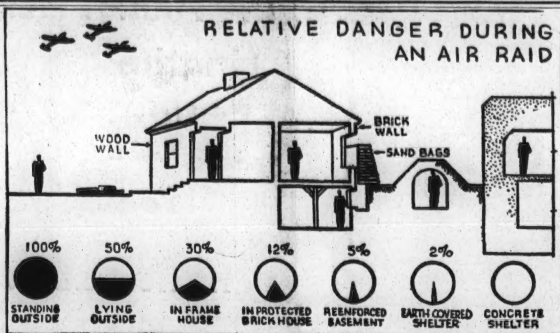

New officers elected were: Mrs. Robertson, president, and Mrs. Hunter, secretary.

WEATHERMAN WINS 'SPEIL

The weatherman won all top honors for the annual Crossfield bonspiel. With lovely ice up to Sunday and the 'speil called to start Monday morning, old Sol shone in full glory and mild nights allowed the ice to partially revert to its natural state. It is expected, however, that the event will be played as soon as the weather is more favorable.

MONEY JAR ATTRACTS ATTENTION

An attractive window display in the barber shop of Doug. Carmichael draws attention to the "money jar" which receives do-East Community Smokes Fund. The jar entertains a novel idea to add some fun to the money-giving. The glass is filled with water and covered with a slotted celluloid top. On the bottom of the jar is an egg cup; idea of the scheme is to see if the coin deposited will slither into the cup. The window is made attractive with pictures of some of the boys receiving smokes from the fund and is decorated with red, white and blue paper and twisted streamers.

When Bombs Fall—FLOP!

The toll taken by enemy bombs on civilian centres can be slashed to a minimum by the observance of a few elementary rules.

The chart above, prepared under the direction of William J. McGuinness, an engineer in charge of the structural air raid precautions course at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, shows relative dangers during a bombing, not considering direct hits.

A man caught outside during an air attack will be twice as safe if he lies prone on the ground instead of standing. Compared with standing outside, the man would be in only 30 percent as much danger if he were in a frame house, 12 percent in a protected brick house, five percent in a re-enforced basement, two percent in an earth-covered shelter and in no danger at all in a concrete shelter.

"People in skyscrapers should consider themselves lucky for they would be relatively safe during an air raid," said McGuinness. "However, those in old brick buildings whose floors are supported by the outside walls would be in danger of injury from building collapse if a 500-pound bomb struck even 50 feet away."

MARY MURDOCH JOINS "WAAFS"

Miss Mary Murdoch received word at the weekend that she had been accepted into the Women's Auxiliary Air Force and will leave for an eastern training centre near the end of the month. Miss Murdoch is a popular member of the Crossfield young set and has received many congratulations on her enlistment.

A. PRIEST IS NIGHT FIGHTER

Among the deadly firing, 'fly-by-night' crew of an R.C.A.F. night fighter squadron, commanded by a South African wing commander, which took a heavy toll of Nazi night raiders in recent months, were four Albertan youths. One of them is A. A. Priest of this district, and others in the squadron equipped with twin-engined Beau-fighters are L. E. Lunde of Barons, F. P. Peebles of Grande Prairie, and D. G. Morris of Calgary.

HONORED ON LEAVING TO TRAIN

David McKenzie was honored by friends at Dog Pound on Monday night with a farewell dance. Mr. McKenzie left on Wednesday to undergo training. Following supper at midnight during the dance, David was presented with a wrist watch and purse of money from his friends, for which he made a brief expression of his thanks. Dancing and community singing continued until the party ended early in the morning.

Support your community, it supports you.

Currie Heads Old-Timers Association

Few members attended the annual meeting on Saturday of Crossfield and District Old Timers' Association, but even for the lack of attendance a good meeting was conducted.

G. Murdoch was given the honorary presidency and Rev. A. D. Currie was elected to succeed H. G. Robinson as president. Vice-president elected was Garnet O'Neill while Sid Willis retained the secretary-treasurer's position.

The meeting decided to hold the annual round-up on the usual date, last Wednesday in November, which this year falls on the 25th. Annual meeting to review year's work will be held in January, 1943. The annual old-timers' church service will be held on Nov. 29.

SECOND LOAN $600 MILLIONS

Bonds to Be Offered About Middle of February

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Finance Minister Ailey announced today Canada's second victory loan of this war to be placed before the Canadian public next month, will be for $600,000,000.

The loan will be offered about the middle of February. It will be for the same amount as that of last June.

No details have been given as to the interest rates and yield of the new bonds.

"With the intensification of the war it is clear that we shall need at least $600,000,000," said Mr. Ailey today, "and it is this amount that will be our objective in the victory loan drive which will take place from about mid-February into March."

Mr. Ailey expressed confidence in success of the new loan, to be floated under the new national war finance committee, of which G. W. Spinney, Montreal, is chairman.

The three previous Canadian loans of this war were:

January, 1940—$200,000,000 loan subscribed to the extent of $231,276,850 cash.

Our Lookout

Crossfield and district has a wonderful asset that is passing with less recognition and care than is wise. It is an asset that is well worth protecting and well worth developing. It is an asset that costs but very little and gives big dividends. It is an asset that means a major part in the community's future. It is the high school hockey team.

These boys hold the high school championship for the Rosebud league and promise big things for this season. This alone: that they offer a good show, should encourage more support than they are getting, but there are many other reasons why the boys should receive everyone's interest.

These boys will soon be the district's contribution to the democracy that will prevail through this conflict, by being part of the generation which will help to build a strong and safe world. Our boys under the flag are fighting to keep this democracy and they are receiving our co-operation and support. The boys who are growing up now will be the ones who will add their strength to what the boys in uniform will maintain for us.

The team has one particularly strong supporter now in their coach and teacher, Mr. Adams. He realizes the value of co-operation and team work among the boys and offers his time to this end. This point should be recognized by everyone.

The small amount you pay at the gate to see a bang-up game of hockey is little enough to pay for the results it will help to achieve.

MUST RENT SPACE TO KEEP LIVING

"Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something," says the Stirling News-Argus. If it is for the benefit of the individual, it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet, it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent them to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish free rent.

CANADA CUTS CROP SURPLUS

Expect Carryover to Drop 100,000,000 Bushels

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Soldiers, sailors and airmen fighting for liberty in far corners of the world are fortified by bread from Canadian wheat although immense stores remain the formerly embarrassing surplus is being whittled down. Already forecasts are being made the wheat carryover of 430,083,691 bushels on July 31, 1941, will be cut to 330,000,000 bushels or less on July 31, 1942, the end of the present crop year.

The United Kingdom, which agreed to purchase 240,000,000 under contracts in the past year, may have taken delivery of this total before that time and be in the market for more.

Canadian wheat is being funnelled to friendly nations needing it through the United Kingdom. Other than Canadian supplies are involved in gigantic transactions being carried on by London.

BUY EGYPTIAN CROP

In a review of the wheat situation, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said it was believed Egypt's wheat output was purchased by the United Kingdom government. Australian wheat was ordered to Syria and other territories where Allied forces are established.

The wheat shortage in Turkey is being met by the British government from stocks owned and controlled in the Middle East. Sales of Turkey were estimated at 2,600,000 bushels and the latest estimate of the Turkish crop indicated a yield of 123,600,000 bushels compared with an average in recent years of 136,000,000 bushels.

Behind all local supplies available in areas of warfare are the reserves in Canada and the United Kingdom, the latter being built up largely from purchases in this Dominion. Wheat from the prairies has been shipped from England to northern Russia to feed the men battling Hitler's forces there.

RESERVES HIT RECORD

Information here was that wheat reserves are of record proportions in the United Kingdom and grain crops production in 1941 was 50 percent greater than the pre-war level. But officials noted that Canadian wheat exports so far this crop year are well ahead of comparison with 1940-41, with the United Kingdom by far the most important buyer.

The enlarged demand for wheat abroad, plus increased home requirements, has made the balance available for export and carryover more than 100,000,000 bushels less than at the same time last year. Should the present substantial export movement continue, the final carryover figure for July 31, 1942 may be nearer 300,000,000 than 400,000,000 bushels, some officials said.

Carryovers of more than 200,000,000 bushels appeared five times in the 10 years 1932-41. Crop disaster or improved markets have caused the virtual disappearance of such surpluses in the past. The carryover was 213,632,118 bushels in 1935, 127,362,586 in 1936 and 37,948,839 bushels in 1937, a year of drought and short crops on the prairies.

Wheat Price Ceiling of $1.26 Urged by Line Elevators

THE NORTH-WEST LINE ELEVATORS

ASSOCIATION has submitted a further memorandum to Ottawa urging that special consideration be given the disabilities under which the wheat farmer is operating in any action taken by the Government in fixing a ceiling price for wheat.

THE LINE ELEVATORS are urging the Government to set the ceiling price for Western wheat at not less than $1.26 per bushel basis One Northern delivered Montreal in conformity with the price ceiling set on Ontario wheat. This would make the ceiling price at Fort William and Vancouver a minimum of approximately $1.15 per bushel.

Got Drunk, Told Everything

NEW YORK. —The B.B.C. relayed a Russian broadcast tonight saying a German officer who got drunk celebrating Christmas provided information which led to the Soviet recapture last week of Narfominsk, 35 miles southwest of Moscow.

"Advancing on the main road, the Russians captured a German officer who had been celebrating Christmas and was completely drunk," said the account.

"The officer sent them to the German headquarters, and the staff officers' celebration there was interrupted by the conquering Red army forces."

CANADA, U.S. POOLING ARMS

U.S. to Spend $50,-
000,000,000 Annually
By End of '43

By J. F. SANDERSON

WASHINGTON. — War expenditures at a rate of $50,000,000,000 annually by the middle of 1943 were advanced by President Roosevelt today as the goal of the industrial and military effort of the United States.

When it is reached the country will be devoting 50 percent of its national income to the purpose of defeating the Axis. By comparison the outlay is to be running about 27 percent six months from now, and apparently is less than that now.

The president revealed these figures at a press conference discussion of the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1943, which is to be sent to congress next week.

In response to questions, he confirmed Canadian dispatches that American and Canadian military resources are being pooled. That had been going on for a month, he said, and was as old as Dec. 7 (the day the Japanese attacked Hawaii).

The president said that arms under the speed-up program will be pooled among Allied nations as they have been since Dec. 7, the day the United States entered the war.

to be kept under the lend-lease program and the money element will not be eliminated, he indicated the munitions will go where they are most needed and specifically mentioned Britain, Russia, The Netherlands East Indies, the Philippines and the Kamchatka Peninsula in Siberia, 1,425 miles north-east of Tokyo and 800 miles west of the Aleutian Islands.

Inclusion of Kamchatka in the list of possible theatres of warfare was regarded as particularly significant because at Paramushir, on the southern tip of the peninsula, the Russians have built one of the most powerful air and naval bases in East Asia.

The peninsula, which is Russian territory, lies north of Japan and apparently within striking distance of that country, but the president gave no further indication how it might fit into the war strategy.

The president said the decision to aim at utilizing the total productive capacity of the United States resulted from discussions he had last week with representatives of Britain and Canada, although he, himself, had decided on a general speed-up the night of Dec. 7.

Mr. Roosevelt stated that Canada, the United States and Great Britain have been pooling all war-time production since the American declaration of war. This was taken to mean that the output of Canadian, American and British factories, fields and forests will be diverted to war theatres where they are most urgently required, irrespective of who made them, what they cost or for what purpose they were ordered.

SEE SUPPLY COUNCIL

His statements raised immediate questions here about an Allied supply council to control production in Allied nations, eliminate overlapping and needless competition and evolve long-range industrial plans based on strategic considerations.

Whether a council of that sort is intended could not be learned but all the necessary machinery is available here where Canadian and British production agencies have offices working in close harmony with American supply departments.

Expanding on the question of the production program, Mr. Roosevelt said he had changed its name. Before the war started, he said, the office of production management had what was known as the all-out program or victory program. He preferred, he added, to use less dramatic terminology and call it the war program.

He said by the end of the 1943 fiscal year the budget program would involve devoting half of a national income of $100,000,000,000 to the war effort.

The objective was to turn America's full productive capacity into the battle against the Axis.

With congress knocking off work for 1941 today, Mr. Roosevelt said he would deliver his annual message on the state of the Union to a joint session on Jan. 8 or 7. The budget would, as usual, go to the Capitol on the following day.

Caught Before 'Escape' German Hides in Laundry

OSHAWA, Ont. —An escaped German prisoner of war was taken into custody here tonight before the authorities at the Bowmanville prison camp, 10 miles east of Oshawa, knew he had escaped.

The prisoner, Friedrich Oeser, who said he had been an officer in the Nazi air force, hid in a bundle of laundry in the rear of a truck owned by the Oshawa laundry which had entered the camp to make a delivery. The driver of the truck, William Ransford of Oshawa, became suspicious when he discovered the rear doors of the truck were open on reaching Oshawa, and noticed a man walking away.

Ransford told police that the man halted and said in broken English: "Your back doors are open—Happy New Year." Ransford grabbed the man and took him to a policeman. Oeser was escorted to police station where he admitted he had escaped less than an hour earlier from the camp.

troop-trucks on the Tripollitanian coastal road east of Homs, some 60 miles from Tripoli.

Nevertheless, British authorities welcomed the resumption of heavy tank fighting because they believed it meant the final battle to annihilate the German armored force is either beginning or imminent.

British pressure at all points of the Axis position was renewed after the attack.

REDS ATTACK FROM SLEDS

Nazis Report Russians Drive Into Battle Pulled by Horses

BERLIN. —The blizzards and severe cold which are hampering the armies on the Russian front also are being felt in the Balkans and in Turkey, according to dispatches received here.

Reports from Sofia, Bulgaria, said the temperature there had dropped to four degrees below zero (Fahrenheit), while 22 below was recorded in Eastern Bulgaria and Western Macedonia. Snowstorms also swept through this area.

From Ankara, Turkey, came news of blizzards in eastern and central Anatolia, which left six-foot snowbanks, disrupted communications and cut off many towns and villages from the outside world.

German military sources said Russian troops attacked in horse-drawn sleds through blinding snowstorms Monday, but that their offensives collapsed under the weight of German fire, German military sources reported today.

After one such attack by a battalion on the southern front, the ground was strewn with 400 dead, wrecked sleighs, mortars and machine guns, these sources said.
